

The Wisconsin Society of American Foresters (WI SAF) seeks your partnership and invites you to become a sponsor or exhibitor at our state conference on October 11 and 12 in Wisconsin Dells, Wisconsin at the Chula Vista Resort.

This year's theme is "The Good Oak" and will feature speakers from the U.S. Forest Service, Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources, University of Kentucky, among others, presenting the importance of Wisconsin's oak resource to the state, throughout the nation, and across the world. Topics include silviculture, oak savanna, carbon, oak wilt, assisted migration and more. WI SAF is excited to collaborate with the Aldo Leopold Foundation to host field tours at their center in Baraboo, to include the legendary "shack" and oak management techniques.

More information can be found at www.wisaf.org. An agenda and list of speakers and field tour topics will be added to the webpage as they become available, so check back often. Foresters, land managers and other natural resources professionals from Wisconsin and adjacent states are expected to attend.

Sponsorship levels begin at $125 with increasing benefits at higher levels, including complementary registrations and banquet tickets. A sponsor/exhibitor form, with more information about the benefits associated with various levels of support is enclosed. Please fill out the form and send it with a check or pay using a credit card in the Event Brite registration site we expect to open soon. Either way, let us know as soon as possible so your logo can have a longer display time.

We appreciate your consideration to sponsor this informative meeting, please contact me by phone at 608-451-2356 (cell), or email at highknollroad@centurylink.net, or by mail with my address listed below on sponsorship details or any questions you have about our event.
